ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Our community acknowledges the Bunurong and Wurundjeri people, the traditional owners of this land, who have walked upon and cared for it for thousands of years. We acknowledge the continued deep spiritual attachment and relationship of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to this country and commit ourselves to the ongoing journey of Reconciliation.

A place to meet like minded men for a chat over a cup of coffee and maybe involve yourself in some activity. Make new friends, find new opportunities and learn new skills.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Cardinia Men's Shed believes in supporting members of our community. We do this in a number of ways and with different organisations.

Like all Men's Sheds, we primarily started as a support network for men in the community.

In addition, we mentor youth through programs like "The Couch Project". Thursdays are available for women to join the shed if they would like to hone their wood working skills.

Guest speakers are invited to the shed on a regular basis to talk about health, senior services and special interests. Day trips are arranged where sufficient interest is shown in visiting somewhere. This includes other Men's Sheds.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT AND FUNDRAISING

Cardinia Men's Shed undertakes projects within the local community as well as fundraising to support the activities of the shed.

Fundraising is achieved through Bunnings barbecues, selling items made in the shed as well as completing projects both for individuals and community groups and organisations.

SPONSORSHIPS & DONATIONS

Being a non-profit organization, all support to Cardinia Men's Shed is welcome. All donations and sponsorships are appreciated. Call us to enquire today

A note from the editor...

Dear Tynong,

This month saw the Tynong Progress Association AGM, so I will share the Tynong Tabloid 2025 Report as my note this month...

The last 12 months of the Tynong Tabloid have been filled with so much community news and activity, it's hard to keep track. The Tabloid promoted the Princes Highway Safety petition for much of the year, resulting in well over 3,000 signatures being added. This has enabled us to present the figures to Wayne Farnham MP for presentation in the Lower House. We are looking forward to an update on this topic.

We have welcomed a number of new advertisers this year, including those who support our community Christmas Party, and have given those a special callout in Tabloid. Thanks Progressive Entertainment, Dandenong Christmas Tree Farm, FairyNess, and 00Plumb Plumbing. Thank you to all our advertisers who support our local newsletter – please make sure our readers support them back in turn!

It was great to cover community initiatives like Clean Up Tynong Day (as part of Clean Up Australia), the Good Friday Appeal, the Anzac Day Service, the community highway meeting at the hall (with 100 in attendance!), and the fire brigade Santa photos, as well as the car show and markets held in Tynong at the school. Particularly impressive is reporting on the sheer amount of money raised for amazing causes – Tynong definitely over-delivers based on our small population, you are all a generous, community minded bunch!

A huge thank you must go to the loyal contributors who give the colour and the shade to the Tabloid each month, from Progress meeting reports, obits and announcements, rainfall data, market reports, and general community news. We're never short of things to report on, but it's always great to have new things to talk about so I'd love to see some more contributors. Do you like to review local restaurants or tourist attractions? Do you like photography and want to share your images? Are we harbouring our own Lady Whistledown or Gossip Girl to report anonymously on (kind and positive!) local news? We would love to hear from you and nothing is too small or silly if it's entertaining or fun for you – drop us a line!

Thanks also must go to Denise for wrestling with our new printer – we couldn't do this without you and appreciate you getting the hard copies out each month so much. Thanks to John for his fire brigade reports and Pauline for her progress reports and being the source of all news and last-minute proofreading – thank you. Jeanette is faithful with her rainfall data, and we get great material from the local neighbourhood houses, Cardinia Shire Council, Garfield Community Garden and others I'm sure I've forgotten, but appreciate when I am trying to fill a blank page.

Thanks, for a great year of Tynong Tabloiding, Caroline

TYNONG PROGRESS ASSOCIATION Inc | PRESIDENT'S REPORT 9th July 2025

And welcome to you all, thank you for coming tonight.

As I was thinking about this report, it occurred to me that there are other acknowledgments that could be made that results in our being here as representatives for the Tynong community.

We should acknowledge our Tynong settlers who, in the early 1900s, saw the need to form a Progress Association for the betterment of Tynong's new residents. One of their first achievements was to establish the first Tynong Public Hall on the current hall site, which saw many gala events and balls. They were also heavily invested in the need for proper drainage in and around the town.

Our local councils, beginning with the Berwick Country Roads Board, then Pakenham Council and now Cardinia Shire Council have all been proactive over the years, in helping to make Tynong a very liveable town.

Not recently having football or netball teams, Tynong hasn't missed out with sporting activities, with badminton being held at the Hall up until the early 70s. Tynong Tennis Club is a feature of many a budding tennis player's life. Before the tennis club was built, a local resident saw fit to set up a tennis court in their garden and make it available for keen players.

The Tynong Fire Brigade will see its 80th birthday this year – 80 years of rescuing and keeping the community safe! We are so lucky for their constant care of Tynong and surrounds. We are especially grateful to them as Tynong Progress has been able to use these rooms for our meetings over the last few years.

Our own Tynong Hall will be celebrating its centenary soon. It has been the site of many meetings and events and parties. It is beautifully maintained by its committee of management and is the host of a mural depicting the excavation of rock from the first Tynong Quarry that was used in the construction of the Shrine of Remembrance in Melbourne.

Acknowledging the foresight of the quarry workers who arranged for a hunk of granite to be placed at the Tynong State School in the 1920s, so that the children could commemorate ANZAC and Remembrance days. That rock is now the one opposite the hall, a part of the Tynong Memorial.

Acknowledging our biggest and noisiest neighbour - you know, the Gippsland Railway line. It has seen Tynong grow from a tiny hamlet to a bustling railway town from the turn of the 20th century, when food and timber were transported to Melbourne. Not so bustling now, but still well used by residents and school children.

The population of Tynong has been quite stable over the last few decades, but we seem to be on the cusp of an increase. Whilst the town boundary has not expanded, the number of homes within the town has. We also have a large mobile population of workers at the Pakenham Racing track, which ensures many new faces during the day. We seem to have had a huge housing boom with probably the most houses and land for sale at any one time happening – and most of them have sold.

We have been fortunate once again to be the recipient of grants from the Garfield Community Op Shop and the Bunyip Community Market, for the purchase of a new garden shed for the community rooms for extra storage and for the purchase of security cameras for the rooms. We were extremely lucky to be awarded a huge grant of $10k+ from the Bendigo Bank of Bunyip Community Group for the purchase of our new printer for the Tabloid. We are waiting on the outcome of an application that was made to Cardinia Council on our behalf to help with renovations to the MHC building, as well as an application for a seeding grant from Southside Racing.

Our petition to the Victorian State Government requesting a masterplan be created for the upgrade of the Princes Highway between Nar Nar Goon and Longwarry created quite a bit of activity after receiving 3,500 signatures. It has been presented to Parliament but to date, we have not been advised of the outcome.

The Tynong Christmas party goes from strength to strength with a huge number of people turning up last year. To help with the catering this year, we called upon the help of the Bunyip Garfield Rotary Club who provided the barbeque and cooked for us AND cleaned up afterwards! Once again, those Progress people who don't like to make a fuss or be acknowledged are thanked for all the work they do to put on the best local activity for the benefit of all Tynong residents (and visitors). And what about those Christmas trees? They were so successful that we have bookings for more this year.

Tynong also had a successful Good Friday fundraiser again this year with $13,000 being raised from Tynong for the Royal Children's Hospital.

For the first time ever, Progress members took part in a Clean Up Australia Day early this year, this saw many bags of rubbish collected. We could not get to all roads in Tynong but maybe with a few more helpers next time, we can.

It is only fitting, that I acknowledge our Progress people for the work they do : Josh as VP and stand – in minutes secretary (and as an aside, we have functioned this year without an official Secretary but would be grateful if someone could nominate); Denise for your work as Treasurer and for your enthusiasm and drive to get things done – where would we be without you? Janet and Stewart who have wholeheartedly thrown themselves into working for our town; Caroline for all the all the late nights getting the Tabloid ready to print (and apologies from me for making you wait); John Sarafis for quietly keeping the grounds of the Community Rooms mowed; Nicki MacDermid for providing a safe, happy and exciting playgroup for our local little people and their parents; Alanna – congratulations on your nearly first year of being our local councillor, and for your continued support.

And thank you everyone for coming along to meetings – it is always welcoming to hear your thoughts and ideas on how we can keep on making life better for us all in Tynong.

NAIDOC Week Celebrations in Cardinia Shire

NAIDOC Week was 6-13 July this year, and the Cardinia Shire community celebrated by connecting with Country and community at the Cardinia Cultural Centre in Pakenham.

NAIDOC Week is an opportunity for all Australians to learn about and come together to celebrate the history, culture, and achievements of First Nations peoples. This year marks 50 years of NAIDOC, honouring the enduring strength of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the vision for an empowered, valued and equitable community.

This year's theme 'The Next Generation: Strength, Vision and Legacy' focuses on creating a vision for and with young people for a better, more inclusive and inspired future for our First Nations peoples, imparting wisdom and lessons learnt through our shared history and fostering courage and strength, to build a future of self-determination, equity and mutual respect.

Cardinia Shire Mayor Councillor Jack Kowarzik said Council proudly celebrates NAIDOC Week as part of its commitment to reconciliation and fostering an inclusive and welcoming community for all.

'As we prepare our next Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) 2025-2027, which recently underwent the initial stages of community consultation, we're reflecting on what it means for all Australians to embrace NAIDOC Week, to be curious, learn about and join together to celebrate our First Nations peoples, and the oldest, continuous living cultures in the world,' Mayor Kowarzik said.

'This NAIDOC Week theme invites everyone to empower and guide the next generation young people who will shape the future policies, cultures, beliefs, attitudes, and actions of our nation.

'As proud Australians, we all have the opportunity to learn from the fresh perspectives and energy of our young people, to acknowledge and learn from our ancestors shared past, and to inspire the creation of our shared future, one that is equitable and where our First Nations people and their cultures are remembered, respected, and celebrated.'

Engaging community through art and experience is a positive and powerful way to help raise awareness about reconciliation, NAIDOC, and the value of Cardinia Shire's rich indigenous cultural heritage.

Visit Cardinia Cultural Centre throughout the school holidays to learn about our First Nations cultures, try your hand at creating through art, and immerse yourself in the captivating curved wall mural artwork.

Visit now to experience 'Coloured in Country', a mural artwork

Commissioned for Reconciliation Week and opening in May 2025, this inspiring mural artwork by First Nations artist Robert Michael Young sits proudly on Cardinia Cultural Centre's Curved Wall.

Robert is a Gunnai, Waradjurie, Gunditjumarra, Yorta Yorta, Bunorong man, whose heart, and spirit are for his Culture and People.

'This mural is the story of the Elder wombat taking the younger wombat for them to discover their colour and markings. It is about the idea that when you walk with someone and are led, you will find wisdom.' Mr Robert Michael Young says.

Exhibition Dates: Daily from 9am–4pm until May 2026

Venue: Curved Wall Mural, Cardinia Cultural Centre, 40 Lakeside Boulevard, Pakenham

Cost: Free

Fancy a Film?

Cold, trying to stay out of the rain? Go see a movie, here are some that are out now for the school holidays!

SMURFS – G - Cementing the 2000' onwards tradition of actors doing all the voices in Animated Movies, there are a ton of big name actors in the latest Smurfs movie. This time around, Smurfette leads in needing to go into the real world to save Papa Smurf. (very mild themes, coarse language and some scenes may scare very young children – 92 mins)

LiLo and Stitch - PG– Live Action re-make(??) of the lost Alien helping a young girl and her older sibling find themselves as a 'family'. Once the first few scenes of CGI 'live action' aliens in space-ships passes, the beautiful setting of Hawaii benefits being real and is a nice back-drop to a nice coming of age/being thankful for what you have story played out in a at the time especially non-conventional family setting. (not recommended for very young children due to violence, themes and scary scenes – 108 mins)

How to Train Your Dragon – PG – Another Live-Action re-make, so assuming this time it is with a real dragon, making this movie part documentary...:). Tells the story of young Viking trying to come to terms with the village tradition of dealing with dragons. Following how he challenges expectations, so yes there are a few 'be yourself' and 'belonging' lessons along the way, but not overly heavy handed compared with more recent remakes to get in the way of a good family fun adventure film. (not recommended for very young children due to violence, themes and scary scenes – 125 mins)

So grab some popcorn and stay dry!!

Tynong Playgroup Fire Station Excursion | Nicki Macdiarmid

Last month our Playgroup families went on an excursion to Tynong Fire Station.

Where do we start? What an awesome day we all had. The children absolutely loved every moment and were in their element today.

A massive thank you to John, Jeanette, Denise and Phill from Tynong Fire Brigade, all volunteers - thank you for having us!

The children were able to explore the fire trucks, with light & sirens, squirt the water hoses at the target practice fire, learn about fire safety information, including with house or building fires and smoke to "Get Down Low and GO GO GO"!

They also learned about different protective gear and equipment and how to call 000 in case of emergencies. We then had fun with colouring in sheets and Jeanette read us all a story.

And to end our day out all the children we presented with a 'goodie basket' with bubbles and a very special patch to treasure forever.
